THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

The report comes from Washington that the government is preparing to defend the interests of Americans in Brazil, and determined that no foreign power shall interfere in the war now being waged against each other by rival factions in that republic. The administration is aroused and it intends to enforce the Monroe doctrine. It is believed that the revolutionists are being aided by Great Britain and perhaps other monarchial nations. It is said that British ships have been supplying Admiral Mello's fleet with meat, and probably with munitions of war, and that the intention is, if the present republic is overthrown, to re-establish a monarchy.

While the United States government will not interfere in the struggle between the rival factions, now contending for supremacy, it will not permit any foreign power to set up a monarchy in Brazil. The cruiser "San Francisco," with Admiral Benham on board, has been ordered to Rio de Janeiro, and the cruiser New York and the monitor Miantonomoh have been ordered by the Navy Department to get ready for sea. Though the department refuses to give information as to the destination of those vessels, it is believed they will be sent to Rio.

The government is determined to adhere to the Monroe doctrine it will not permit European interference in Brazilian politics and to be consistent it must tell European powers to keep their hands off Hawaii as well as Brazil, as the latter, though two thousand miles from the United States, is nearer the American continent than any other.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA LIQUOR LAW.

South Carolina controls the sale of liquor within the State. Under the Dispensatory act the State officials regulate the sale of liquor. No license is issued to any one and dispensaries are established where liquors are sold in quantity by officials, but no drinking is permitted on the premises. Every package has the Government stamp on it. The State Supreme Court has decided the act constitutional, and heavy penalties are imposed for infractions of the law.

Recently an effort was made to get the Supreme Court of the United States to pass upon the constitutionality of the law. The case was taken up on a writ of habeas corpus to release a State official who had seized a barrel of liquor held by a receiver appointed by a local court. Chief Justice Fuller of the Supreme Court said the court did not deem it necessary to pass upon the constitutionality of the Dispensatory act, as the officer was in contempt in seizing liquor held by a receiver and for that reason he should be punished without reference to the constitutionality of the act.

COLORADO CONVENTION.

A convention composed of over 600 delegates from all parts of Colorado met in Denver Thursday. Governor Waite was present by invitation and promised to give careful consideration to any reasons that might be advanced against calling a special session of the Legislature, as proposed by him. Resolutions were adopted against an extra session, the general opinion being that it would do more harm than good.

The convention declared that the State had almost entirely recovered from the panic and while it had been most grievously wounded by the demonetization of silver, other resources, such as gold and coal mines and agriculture, were developing wonderfully.

It is not likely, in the face of the general opposition, that the Governor will call an extra session of the Legislature, as he proposed to do. It is believed that it could accomplish no good and would be increasing the burden of expense for nothing.

The Gazette Publishing Company claims to have had knowledge for several months of a conspiracy to annex Utah to Nevada. As no other newspaper in this State had such knowledge, the inference is that some member of the Publishing Company was in league with the conspirators. The Company collectively, or it may be only a member of it, admits what it denied some time ago, that the consent of the people of Nevada must be obtained before the union can be consummated.

Every man of the wool-growers of Nevada made a determined fight against the Silver ticket a year ago. Now Congressman Newlands, in a letter to Secretary Tarrattin of the Wool-Growers' Association, says he will use every honorable means in his power to have such legislation enacted as will continue to protect so important an industry as wool-growing, proving that the opposition of the wool-growers to the Silver party was without cause.

The overstocked market at Fall City has been relieved by the purchase of 80,000 pieces of cotton print at a price of over $1,000,000, and the mills have received orders which will give employment to 25,000 hands during the winter. About 50,000 persons who are dependent upon the mills for support will thus be relieved from distress.

The Republican party demonetized silver. Don't forget that little point.

Neither should it be forgotten that the Democratic party now refuses to demonetize silver.

PEIXOTO A PRISONER.

Starling Reports From Brazil.

PERNAMBUCO, December 22.—Starling rumors have reached here from various sources which lend an air of credibility to them, to the effect that the Insurgent fleet at Rio Janeiro, after two days' desultory fighting, made a determined attack in force and captured the city. It is added that President Peixoto resigned in favor of Admiral Mello, and that Peixoto is a prisoner. Though this is the general rumor, it is right to add that the people of Pernambuco do not credit it. The correspondent was unable to obtain replies to messages sent south, and messages from the Associated Press correspondent at Rio are apparently intercepted, lending color to the belief that something extraordinary has happened.

DOUBTED AT WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, December 22.—The Government has received no advice indicating the capture of Rio Janeiro, though it has been believed for some time that Peixoto was losing ground and liable to serious reverses at any time. Officials are inclined to think that if decisive results have been reached Captain Picking would have been heard from.

At the Brazilian Legation the report was doubted, but the ordinary daily message had not been received, and apparently something had occurred to delay it.

DISCREDITED AT LONDON.

LONDON, December 22.—The reports that Rio Janeiro has surrendered to the Insurgents is not credited here. Inquiry at the office of the Eastern Telegraph Company elicits the information that cable traffic with Rio Janeiro is proceeding as usual. Nothing has transpired to indicate that any important change in the situation has occurred.

A REBEL WARSHIP CAPTURED.

Buenos Ayres, December 22.—A severe engagement between Brazilian Insurgents and Government troops is reported to have taken place at Itajahy, north of Desterro. It is said that 400 were killed and a large number wounded. The Government is said to have captured the rebel warship Madero.

CLEVELAND BLAMED.

A Letter From a Hawaiian Citizen Bristling With Fight.

DETROIT, December 22.—A letter received by Dr. Emerson from his brother, Joseph Emerson, at Honolulu, says:

"The political situation is the all-absorbing subject in every one's thoughts. I have never lived in such an atmosphere of fight. Quietly and determined 1,000 or 1,500 men are preparing for the worst. We would rather die like men than live like curs. President Cleveland is responsible for a most cruel outrage, but he has united us to such an extent that we are ready to fight any force he may send against us."

Funds for the Nevada Southern.

LOS ANGELES, December 22.—General Manager Seibert of the Nevada Southern was in this city to-day from Vanderbilt. He stated that he had received telegraphic advices from President Blake in New York to the effect that he had sold $450,000 of the bonds of the road for cash at a very satisfactory price. The results of this sale, together with what resources are on hand, will be used to extend the line from Vanderbilt to Good Springs, a distance of thirty miles, making sixty miles of track almost in a bee line for Salt Lake City. This extension will take the road into large deposits of lead, copper and coal, which will at once yield a large business. The contractors are ready and work will commence on the 1st, the extension to be completed in four months.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

Mitchell of Oregon is endeavoring to revise the Torrey bankruptcy bill.

S. H. Hart, a Buckley, Washington, bank embezzler, has been arrested in Baltimore.

A bomb was exploded yesterday in Seeda, Spain, wrecking a drug store but killing no one.

In the Coughlin trial at Chicago yesterday sensational evidence was given by Mrs. Andrew Fay.

At Sacramento yesterday Jewell Flint, the slayer of Etta Walker was sentenced to sixteen years in the State prison.

A movement was yesterday started at Fresno looking to the establishment of a new federal district embracing that and several contiguous counties.

The Baltimore police are looking for a Polish crank who has been writing threatening letters to the Vice President and the Senators opposing the free coinage of silver.

Two letters were yesterday picked up on the street at Abilene, Kansas, purporting to be written by parties contemplating abducting baby Ruth from the White House and assassinating the President. It is thought they emanated from cranks.

Advices from Cairo, Egypt, yesterday announced that on December 6th a pitched battle between Italian troops and Dervishes took place at Massowah, Egypt, in which the Dervishes were routed with terrible slaughter. Mohammed Ali was among the killed.

A meeting took place yesterday at St. Paul between the leaders of the various labor organizations and the officials of the Northern Pacific Railroad relative to a proposed reduction in wages of employees. The labor leaders argued against the proposition. The railroad company will give them an answer to-day.

THE WILSON TARIFF BILL.

The Minority of the Ways and Means Committee Report Against It.

The minority report of the Ways and Means Committee, prepared by Reed, Payne, Burrows, Dalzell, Hopkins and Gear, says:

"The most surprising thing about this bill is the fact that this proposition to raise revenues for 1893, which is only $2,000,000 above expenses. This fact and the fact that by this bill the larger part of the burden of taxation is transferred from foreigners and brought to our own citizens, should always be kept in mind. Had the committee followed the uncompromising declaration of the party and abolished protection, giving us a tariff for revenue only, our task in commenting upon the results of the committee's efforts would have been more simple.

So far, however, has the committee departed from the demands of their National Convention that we are much tempted to borrow a phrase from their own platform and designate this bill as a "cowardly makeshift," were it not that the result is already too serious for mere epithets. The committee presented another tinkering tariff bill the like of which has disturbed business so many times during the last thirty years.

"Had the bill been for revenue only, the people of the country might have seen at a glance whether they desired one policy or the other and the question might have been settled once and for all and the country attained that repose and stability on which our prosperity so much depends."

ENGLISH ACQUITTED.

Brief History of Quite a Remarkable Case.

The Silver State has the following relative to the case of I. B. English, whose second trial has resulted in his acquittal:

After being out nearly twenty-four hours the jury in the English case came into court and announced that it had found a verdict of not guilty. The jury and defendant were then discharged, and a case which has in many respects been one of the most remarkable in the history of the county was ended.

The history of the case dates from last February, when I. B. English shot and killed Fred Cady in the former's house near Fort McDermitt. The circumstances of the killing are familiar to most of our readers and need not be repeated.

English was brought here for examination about ten days afterward and discharged by Justice Archer on the ground that the killing was justified. Several months later the case was brought before the grand jury and English was indicted. He was admitted to bail and the case was tried at the September term of court. The jury found a verdict of guilty of manslaughter, but the defendant moved for a new trial, which was granted and resulted in the verdict of acquittal rendered this morning, and which meets with public approval.

HOTELS AND RESTAURANTS.

Some of Reno's Hostelries and Eating Houses.

THE SWISS HOTEL.
There is no town on the Pacific Coast that has a greater number of first-class hotels according to its size than Reno. Among the many of these is the one mentioned at the head of the paragraphs, the Swiss Hotel, situated upon Virginia street in the new two-story brick erected during the summer next to the Powning building, is drawing a good share of general patronage. J. Rea & F. Marr, the proprietors, are rustlers and know how to hold their customers. They are also proprietors of a winery and distillery at Gilroy, Cal., from which they get the fine quality of claret, sherry and port wines which they dispense at their bar.

THE ROSS HOUSE.
This hotel has a large transient custom and is always full of guests. Jim Sullivan, the proprietor, is a genial landlord and is very popular among his associates. The hotel is but a short distance from the depot on Center street and therefore convenient for all trains.

THE PALACE RESTAURANT.
Everybody knows Jack Godfrey and his handsome twins, and everybody, as well, knows the quality of meals that is set by that well-known restaurant.

THE RIVERSIDE HOTEL.

This hotel has a reputation which is not confined to Reno nor the State of Nevada, but is well and favorably known by tourists in all sections of the country who have experienced the delights of trout fishing in the Truckee. It runs a stylish cabriole to and from all trains and never complains of a lack of patronage.

THE GOLDEN EAGLE HOTEL.

This is one of the pioneer hotels of Reno and is a favorable stopping place of people from the northern valleys. Mr. Barnes, the proprietor, is one of the earliest residents of Reno, and the first-class manner in which he conducts his hotel makes it one of the most popular in the Riverside town.

THE GRAND CENTRAL HOTEL.

This well-known hotel is situated upon North Virginia street, facing the Plaza. The proprietor, Dan O'Keefe, is a well-known figure about town and has a host of friends who will stay nowhere else than at the Grand Central.

THE PALACE HOTEL.

Situated on the corner of Commercial Row and Center street is the Palace Hotel, Al White, proprietor. This is a finely furnished stopping place, has all the modern conveniences and is deserving of the extensive patronage which attends it. In connection with the hotel is a fine bar.

THE W.M. TELL HOUSE.

Situated on Sierra street, as its name indicates, a Swiss hotel, but its patrons are not confined to that nationality. It occupies a large two-story brick, and is thorough in all its appointments.

THE INVERNESS HOTEL.

Situated on Center street, between Second street and Commercial Row, is a favorite stopping place of the Scottish people. It sets a good table, is comfortable in all its furnishings and the charges for accommodation are reasonable.

THE FRENCH HOTEL.

Reno has hotels of all the chief nationalities of the world. The French hotel is conducted by C. Bonetti, who knows well by what means the Parisian hostleries have won their reputation as being the best in existence.

THE PHENIX HOTEL.

In a fine three-story brick structure, opposite the depot, is situated the Phenix hotel. It has a large patronage, both permanent and transient, and ranks among the best hotels of the State.

THE CLARENDON HOTEL.

Like the Phenix hotel, this hostelry occupies a splendid brick building facing the depot. A. J. Clark, the proprietor, is an old hotel man and understands perfectly the wants of his patrons. The hotel has connected with it a fine bar, and has a reputation for the excellence of its table.

THE ARCADE HOTEL AND RESTAURANT.

Is one of the popular stopping and eating places of the city. The restaurant department has one of the handsomest dining halls in the State, and is largely patronized by local and transient epicures. C. A. Richardson, the proprietor, is an old resident of Reno and is an ideal host.

THE WASHOE LUNCH COUNTER.

Is rapidly gaining a reputation for the excellence of the meals set by the proprietors, Clausen & Gottschalk. They are both thorough restaurant men and all who eat there once go there the second time.

THE TORONTO RESTAURANT.

This is a new eating place opened in the building formerly occupied by the Justice Court, and the general neatness of the tables and dining room bespeaks the excellence of the fare served.

A Candy Pull.

A candy pull was given by the teachers of the primary department of the public school yesterday afternoon at the building on the corner of Front and Sierra streets. The little ones all brought plates from their homes and enjoyed the treat as only children can. The sweets for the entertainment were furnished by their teachers, Misses Loder, Snow and Unruh.

Storm Waves—January Will be Colder Than the Normal—Jupiter's Influence.

Copyrighted 1893 by W. T. Foster.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., December 22—My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from December 21st to 25th, and 27th to 31st. The next will reach the Pacific Coast about January 1st, cross the Western mountains by the close of the 2d, the Great Central valleys from 3d to 5th and the Eastern States about the 6th, and will be followed by a cold wave.

But how are these captures consummated? What is the nature of the force that draws these heavenly bodies together and yet keeps them apart? Why do not the comets fall into the sun and the moons collide with the planets?

My theory is a practical one. At was originally a very great comet and that it was probably caught by the Earth as Mars has recently caught two very small moons, and that the five moons of Jupiter and eight moons of Saturn have been captured in the same way.

But how are these captures consummated? What is the nature of the force that draws these heavenly bodies together and yet keeps them apart? Why do not the comets fall into the sun and the moons collide with the planets?

At the instance of the teachers in the High School building the pupils have taken a lively interest in relieving distress. Instead of making presents to teachers, as has been the custom, they have been encouraged to contribute to a general fund for the benefit of poor children. A part of one of the school rooms has been used as a store room, and there is now a dray-load of provisions, clothing, etc., which will be distributed by a committee of the High School pupils appointed for the purpose. These articles will be distributed this morning and many a little heart will be made glad.

Had the movement been inaugurated a little earlier in the school term much more good would have resulted, but as it is there is enough provisions and clothing to relieve the immediate wants of several families.

PUBLIC SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.

The closing exercises of the seventh and eighth grades of the public school took place yesterday afternoon at the High School building. A fine program of readings, recitations and songs was rendered, which was listened to by a large number of visiting parents and friends.

The pupils acquitted themselves remarkably well, there being many exceptionally pleasing numbers rendered.

At the close of the exercises, addresses were delivered by Prof. Bray, Mr. Julian and a number of the lady teachers.

The session just closed has been one of the most satisfactory to teachers and parents of any in the history of the place and the number of enrolled pupils has been larger than ever before.

A LIBERAL COMPANY.

The Riverside Mills Contribute Flour for the Destitute.

The Riverside Mill Company forwarded yesterday to the San Francisco Examiner 500 pounds of choice flour as its contribution to the Examiner's Christmas fund for the relief of the poor. The Mill Company authorizes the announcement that it will contribute flour for the relief of the needy at home if application is made by an authorized relief committee.

The company is determined that no needy person shall suffer for bread during this holiday season if it can prevent it.

That is liberal, to say the least, and the company deserves the first premium for its generosity, as well as for the superiority of the flour which it manufactures.

IN OLDEN TIMES

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action, but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

BREVITIES.

Gold-bearing quartz from Silver City, Lyon county, was awarded the first premium at the World's Fair. It was the richest gold rock on exhibition.

T. R. Hofer, superintendent of the U. S. Mint, cashier of the Bullion and Exchange Bank and mayor of Carson City, passed through last evening for California.

The Appeal says Lindsay, the sculptor, contemplates chiseling an American eagle out of a solid block of alabaster for exhibition at the Midwinter Fair.

Hon. Pat Reddy, the famous criminal lawyer, came in last evening from Inyo county, where he has been trying a suit, and went through to his home in San Francisco.

JUPITER'S INFLUENCE.

Astronomers all claim that Jupiter has great influence on the earth and other bodies of the solar system, but they are not agreed as to the exact nature of that influence, consequently they are unable to forecast events brought about through the electrical or magnetic influence of that great planet.

One of the remarkable effects of what astronomers suppose to come from Jupiter's gravitational influences is that he has gathered about him about five great comets, whose time of revolution around the sun are known. Probably millions of lesser bodies are similarly effected by that planet, for the comets of space are as numerous as the fish of the sea.

A remarkable fact about this body of comets is

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

Laughed Herself to Death.

Bertha Pruitt, aged 20 years, laughed herself to death the other night. She was entertaining a number of friends, one of whom, a young man, is noted as a wit. One of his remarks threw Miss

Pruett into a violent fit of laughing, which lasted some minutes, when it suddenly changed to a cry of pain, and she fell to the floor. Blood gushed from her nose and mouth, and medical assistance was summoned, but before anything could be done to relieve the young girl she was dead. The young man who cracked the fatal joke is prostrated with grief.—Philadelphia Dispatch.

A Ninety-nine Years' Sentence.

Frank Moore, a notorious burglar, was last month sentenced in St. Louis, to 99 years' imprisonment in the Missouri penitentiary at Jefferson City. He is otherwise known as Bart McGuire and has given much trouble to the police in all the large cities of the west. His present sentence, which is unprecedented in St.

Louis, was bestowed under the habitual criminal law, an old act which had been allowed to grow rusty upon the statute books and had been almost forgotten.

It provides for a sentence, upon a second conviction, of not less than 10 years nor more than 99. Moore is 40 years old and says he was born in England.—St. Louis

Correspondent.

An Egg For a Stamp.

A little child walked into the postofice at Mazepa with an egg in its hand.

It lisped to the mail dispenser that it wanted a stamp and would give the egg

in payment. This led to an investigation, and the child's mother, Mrs. C. E.

Edwards, was found to be in a destitute condition. She had no money and had sent the child with the egg to the postoffice for a stamp, intending to notify Mount Carmel friends of her want. The husband is missing from home.—Shamokin (Pa.) Correspondent.
